SILKS-Geo. M. Snook &amp; Co.

ILKS THAT LOOK WELL!
ILKS THAT WEAR GRANDLY!
ILKS THAT EVEN WASH!

WHEN REQUIRED.

This in brief is the story of the foremost line of American made Figured India Silks.

Were the designs not so exceptionally sprightly the quality alone would sell them.

Then again, if the quality were not of such superior excellence, the styles themselves would quickly compel purchases.

But when these noted products embody both style and quality, why should they not have precedence over all others?

Being equal in every respect to the Silks of foreign manufacture, why should not these American made Silks command distinguished consideration?

This store shows over thirty distinct, select and exclusive styles of these Silks and the purchase of one of them means the practical application of true economy.

TO LET

The laundry man rub away at the same shirt every week means a tattered shirt very soon. Half-dozen shirts is as few as the average wardrobe can do with—no excuse for fewer shirts—not even the price. Our own make of 50c and 75c shirts defy the laundry. Our shirts are warranted to fit too.

HE WANTED HIS NICKELS.

A Man Adopts An Original Plan to Make a Slot Machine Work.

Early this morning a man who gave his name as Robinson went into Andy McGinley's and began to play the nickel in the slot jack-pot machine. He struck a pot, but it would not open and he took it off the shelf, carried it out in the street, and throwing it down, literally "kicked the stuffing out of it," the stuffing being mainly nickels.

Lieutenant Gaus arrested him. He had probably heard the current joke that the only sure way to hit the machine was to get an ax. The man who has a machine ought to see that it is kept in working order. Otherwise still more serious trouble is likely to result when a man fails to get the money he has won on it.
